

ADVANCING MARINE SCIENCE IN AUSTRALIA

WHO ARE WE?

The Australian Marine Sciences Association Inc. (AMSA) is Australia's peak professional body for marine scientists from all disciplines.

For over 50 years AMSA has promoted all aspects of marine science in Australia. As well as operating nationally, AMSA has active State and Territory Branches.

WHAT DO WE DO?

AMSA WORKS TO PROMOTE MARINE SCIENCE THROUGH:

Providing evidence-based advice to Government

Hosting our annual conference which addresses marine science issues in Australia and abroad

Conducting workshops and training at the Branch and national level

Leading outreach activities and communication products

Publicly recognising outstanding marine scientists, technicians and students through awards

Maintaining up to date position papers on matters of interest

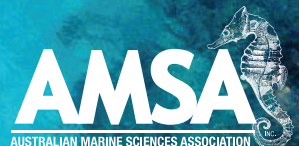

WHO CAN JOIN?

AMSA membership is open to professional marine scientists, students and corporate bodies engaged in marine research, policy or management.

Supporting AMSA through membership provides direct support for efforts in marine science research.

WHY SHOULD YOU JOIN?

- Access to Member communications (e.g. AMSA Bulletin, e-News including job and training opportunities)
- Reduced registration fee at the AMSA Annual Conference
- Participation in activities of State and Territory Branches
- Eligibility for student awards and prizes
- Opportunity to stand as a council member or office bearer
- Opportunity to contribute to position statements and submissions on marine science and government policy
- Affiliate membership of Science and Technology Australia (STA) and eligibility to attend Science Meets Parliament
- Connection to a network of scientists to develop research opportunities and multidisciplinary collaboration, and dissemination of knowledge about marine science to the wider public
