

AMSA Post-Vote Statement

Following the referendum on constitutional change, AMSA reaffirms our commitment, on behalf of the marine science community, to partner with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples and organisations to deliver respect, recognition and truth (see AMSA position on the Uluru Statement and the Voice here). AMSA will continue to actively address critical issues, including, but not limited to, better representation of Indigenous researchers in marine science, genuine collaboration for work on Sea Country, inclusion of Traditional Owner priorities and aspirations in marine management and custodianship, and the recognition and valuing of the wealth of Indigenous knowledge.
